Chairwoman's Letter to Shareholders

1 September 2021 to 28 February 2022

Dear Shareholder,

I am writing to update you on the activities of BlackRock Global Funds ("BGF") over the six months to 28 February 2022. The BGF range comprised 97 funds (each a "Fund", together the "Funds") as at 28 February 2022.

The infectious respiratory illness caused by a novel coronavirus known as COVID-19 has had a profound impact on all aspects of society over the last two years. While there is a growing consensus in developed economies that the worst of the impact is now over, there is an expectation that travel restrictions, enhanced health screenings at ports of entry and elsewhere, disruption of and delays in healthcare service preparation and delivery, cancellations, supply chain disruptions, and lower consumer demand will create ongoing challenges. While widescale vaccination programmes are now in place in many countries and are having a positive effect, the impact of COVID-19 continues to adversely affect the economies of many nations across the globe and this impact may be greater where vaccination rates are lower, such as in certain emerging markets. Although it is difficult to make timing predictions, it is expected that the economic effects of COVID-19 will continue to be felt for a period after the virus itself has moved from being pandemic to endemic in nature and this in turn may continue to impact investments held by the Fund.

For much of the past six months, the path to recovery seemed assured. While COVID-19 continued to flex its muscles, with a new Omicron variant emerging in November, the pandemic seemed to be in abeyance. However, the economic recovery has come with an inflationary sting in its tail, which has compelled central banks to take action. Consumer price inflation ("CPI") in the US tipped above 5% in May and has edged higher ever since. While it took longer to build momentum in other markets, such as the UK and Europe, some tightening of monetary policy will likely become a necessity. Some emerging markets saw inflation tip above 10% with higher food and raw materials prices.

The Federal Reserve announced in November that it would withdraw its quantitative easing programme sooner than it had expected and it now anticipates four interest rate rises in 2022. The Bank of England raised rates in December. The European Central Bank has resisted calls to raise rates for the time being, but is coming under increasing pressure to act. A number of emerging markets have been pushed into a rapid rise in rates. Brazil, for example, was forced to lift rates from 2% at the start of 2021 to 10.75% at the start of 2022 as inflation took hold.

However, more significantly, towards the end of the period under review, Russia invaded Ukraine. This act of aggression was met with a series of sanctions from Western powers designed to cut Russia out of the global banking system and weaken reliance on its natural resources. This came with consequences: commodity prices have soared, exacerbating already high inflation. This threatens to disrupt economic normalisation across the world.

It is impossible to know how the crisis will end and whether it will be contained in Eastern Europe. The International Energy Agency has stepped in to release more oil on the market and stabilise prices. Governments across the globe were busy trying to shore up alternative sources of energy.

The International Monetary Fund now forecasts global gross domestic product ("GDP") growth of 3.6% for 2022, though its forecasts are subject to significant uncertainty given the Ukrainian crisis. The forecasts are still robust for the US and Eurozone, but China's economy is still struggling as it fights to keep a lid on the pandemic and sustain its zero COVID policy in the face of increasingly transmissible variants. However, the government has announced additional spending.

Elsewhere, governments are still spending. US President, Joe Biden, signed the US$1.2 trillion infrastructure bill into law in November. The EU issued the first round of bonds to finance its new 'green deal' in October with record demand. While countries have generally withdrawn their furlough and other support payments, there is still considerable stimulus for the world economy.

However, markets have struggled to make progress against an increasingly difficult geopolitical backdrop. Investors have vacillated from high growth technology stocks – seen as a source of safety at times when COVID-19 threatened to derail economic growth – and recovery names – those leisure, retail or travel stocks left behind in the wake of the pandemic. In early 2022, recovery names were firmly in the ascendancy, but were then derailed by the crisis in Eastern Europe.

The performance of the Funds is covered in more detail in the separate Investment Adviser's Report, which also sets out some views regarding the investment outlook.

The assets under management ("AUM") in the BGF range fell 7.4% from US$209.6 billion to US$194.0 billion over the period, with weakness in emerging markets and Europe. Bond and equities were weak. The only significant areas of strength were specific sectors, such as commodities and mining.

The information stated in this report is historical and not necessarily indicative of future performance.

Chairwoman's Letter to Shareholders

1 September 2021 to 28 February 2022 continued

The weakest areas were in emerging markets, particularly Eastern Europe. Assets in the Emerging Europe Fund dropped from EUR758.9 million to EUR269.8 million. The Fund had significant holdings in Russian securities, which were written down, at the end of the period as a precaution, as the Ukraine crisis escalated. Further, as of 1 March, a decision was made to suspend the valuation, subscriptions and redemptions in the Fund. For further details see Note 19. Emerging Markets Equity Income Fund, Emerging Markets Bond Fund, Emerging Markets Corporate Bond Fund and Emerging Markets Local Currency Bond Fund all shed assets over the period, with only the Emerging Markets Impact Bond Fund and Emerging Markets Sustainable Equity Fund showing a rise in assets.

The move into Environmental Social and Governance ("ESG") assets was replicated in other sectors. Assets in the ESG Multi-Asset Fund rose 39% to EUR5.86 billion. The Future Of Transport Fund also added AUM, growing 9.7% to US$1.94 billion AUM.

Elsewhere, AUM in the Global Inflation Linked Bond Fund rose 20.7% to US$471.4 million as investors sought to protect themselves against inflation. The Natural Resources Growth & Income Fund grew 51.0%, as commodities prices rose.

In contrast, some of the areas that have seen significant growth in recent years shed assets. The Next Generation Technology Fund dropped 56.5% to US$3.8 billion, while the Global Corporate Bond Fund dropped 47% to US$969.1 million. The US Growth Fund dropped 41.4% to US$426.2 million.

Regulatory change continued throughout Europe which could have implications for investors. Key developments include:

- ▶ The European Supervisory Authorities ("ESAs") submitted draft Regulatory Technical Standards to the European Commission on the content of PRIIPs Key Information Documents ("KIDs"), with a particular focus on performance scenarios and costs. The consultation period is due to close on 30 April 2022.
- ▶ The European Union's new Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation ("SFDR") came into effect in March 2021. It imposes new transparency and reporting obligations on investment management firms, both at a firm-wide level and at a product level. Certain parts of the framework are still under consultation and are likely to be finalised later this year. At the same time, the EU is working on an EU-wide classification system or 'framework'. This taxonomy is designed to provide businesses and investors with a common language to identify to what degree economic activities can be considered environmentally sustainable. There are also moves to improve reporting, with the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive ("CSRD") currently in discussions. The Luxembourg government recently took further steps to encourage investment in environmentally sustainable funds, reducing the 'taxe d'abonnement' (subscription tax) for funds that meet certain environmental criteria.

Investment Adviser's Report

Performance overview

1 September 2021 to 28 February 2022

Market Review

For much of 2021, investors had seen the mega cap technology stocks as a 'safe haven' and would retreat into them at times of trouble. It was only when the Federal Reserve (the "Fed") changed its view that inflation would be transitory and announced the acceleration of the speed of planned interest rate hikes that investors started to reappraise this view. In a climate of higher rates, the valuations of the technology sector started to look vulnerable and the start of 2022 saw a significant sell-off in the sector. This shifted again as the first bombs were dropped in Ukraine, with investors seeking safety in mega cap technology once again.

This affected which geographic regions did well. The US continued its strength for much of the year, led by the technology companies, even though valuations had started to look stretched. However, the rally in more economically sensitive areas and – latterly – the commodities sector, helped markets such as the UK.

This also applied in emerging markets. Having been very weak for much of 2021, Latin American stock markets surged on the back of rising commodity prices. China continued to struggle as further outbreaks of COVID-19 and renewed lockdowns held back growth. India has been one of the top-performing markets for much of 2021, but sold off significantly in 2022.

Inflation was a factor for which sectors did well. Index-linked government bonds performed well over the period, as inflation outpaced expectations. Commodity and natural resources, which have historically provided some protection against inflation, were another area of strength, particularly in the aftermath of the Ukraine invasion. In particular, the large fossil fuel companies benefitted from rising prices for energy.

Environmental Social and Governance ("ESG") continued to be an important consideration even if ESG-aware funds could not replicate their significant success in 2021. However, many 'green' companies continued to be beneficiaries of the drive from governments to 'build back better', which supported share prices. Renewable energy prices also moved higher in response to the Ukraine situation.

It was a better period for income seekers. Having been hit hard in 2020, particularly in the US and UK, dividends returned rapidly as companies grew in confidence. The restrictions on bank dividends were lifted and the mining sector raised payouts on the back of higher commodity prices.

Government bond yields, which move inversely to prices, rose significantly – from 1.3% to 2.1% over the six month period, pushed higher by interest rate expectations.

Fund Performance

A table setting out the performance returns for the primary share class for each Fund versus any applicable benchmark may be found on pages 10 to 15. A brief summary of Fund performance follows.

Performance data stated is for the main (A) share class of the relevant Fund, stated in the base currency of the Fund, net of fees and expenses.

Equity Fund Performance

The Global Equity Income Fund dropped 2.54%, ahead of its benchmark, the MSCI All Country World Net TR Index, which dropped 5.26%. The more growth-focused Global Dynamic Equity Fund fell 8.21%, behind its benchmark (60% S&P 500/40% FTSE World Ex-US Index), which dropped 3.81%.

Shares of small and medium sized companies were weak as investors retreated to safe havens. The Systematic Global SmallCap Fund fell 7.68%, just ahead of its benchmark, the MSCI AC World Small Cap, which fell 8.15%.

Of the individual country funds, the Japan Small & MidCap Opportunities Fund fell 9.64%, behind the S&P Japan Mid Small Cap Index, which fell 6.60%. The Swiss Small & MidCap Opportunities Fund fell 13.06%, behind its benchmark, the SPI Extra Index, which fell 12.29%.

The Continental European Flexible Fund fell 16.31%, significantly behind its benchmark, the FTSE World Europe ex UK Index, which fell by 5.51%. The European Fund fell 13.34% against the MSCI Europe Index, which fell 1.95%. The European Equity Income Fund fell 5.21% against the same benchmark. The European Focus Fund fell 13.46% while the European Special Situations Fund fell by 14.63%. Both are benchmarked to the MSCI Europe Index, which dropped 1.95%

The US Growth Fund fell 18.29%, behind the Russell 1000 Growth Index, which fell by 7.75%. The US Basic Value Fund rose by 1.91%, just ahead of the Russell 1000 Value Index, which rose 0.42% over the period.

The Japan Flexible Equity Fund fell 6.30%, behind the MSCI Japan Index, which fell 2.89%.

Performance across Asia and emerging markets funds dipped as China's economy weakened. The Asian Growth Leaders Fund fell 10.05%, ahead of its benchmark, the MSCI All Country Asia ex Japan Index, which fell 10.45%. The Asian Dragon Fund dipped 9.17%, just ahead of its benchmark, which dropped 10.45%.

The India Fund fell 6.69%, behind its MSCI India Index benchmark, which fell 4.92%. The Emerging Markets Fund, which has a more broad exposure across the emerging markets investment universe, fell 16.31%, behind its benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, which was down 9.81%. The Emerging Markets Equity Income Fund, which shares the same benchmark, was down 12.96%.

The Latin American Fund fell 6.31%, behind its benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Latin America Index, which fell 1.79%. The Emerging Europe Fund fell 60.15% significantly behind its benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Europe 10/40 Index, which fell 40.24% over the period. The underperformance is mainly a result of the Fund's overweight positions in Russia prior to the crisis in Ukraine. The value of Russian holdings was written down, given the difficulty of valuing Russian assets in the current environment.

In natural resources, the World Energy Fund benefitted from higher energy prices, rising 38.96%, ahead of its benchmark, the MSCI World Energy Index (Net) (USD), which rose 37.33% over the period. The World Mining Fund rose 13.40% outperforming its benchmark, the MSCI ACWI Metals and Mining Index, which rose by 6.95%. The World Gold Fund rose 2.84%, behind its benchmark, the FTSE Gold Mines Index, which rose 6.51%.

The World Technology Fund fell 21.82% against a fall of 6.88% in MSCI All Country World Information Technology Index. The Nutrition Fund fell 14.27% over the period, while the Future Of Transport Fund fell 14.15% and the FinTech Fund dropped 28.75%. None of these specialist funds have a benchmark.

Mixed Asset Fund Performance

The diversified Global Allocation Fund – which invests in a mixture of fixed income securities, equities and cash – fell 7.38%, behind its reference benchmark, which fell 4.43% (the benchmark comprises 36% S&P 500 Index, 24% FTSE World Index (Ex-US) Index, 24% ICE BofAML Cur 5-Yr US Treasury Index, 16% FTSE Non-USD World Govt Bond Index).

The Global Multi-Asset Income Fund fell 5.11% over the period. The Fund combines the ability to allocate actively across a full range of asset classes and geographies at a top-down level with a focus on adding value through bottom-up security selection by specialist teams in each key asset class. The Fund does not have a benchmark.

Fixed Income Fund Performance

The Global Government Bond Fund fell 5.06%, behind its benchmark, the FTSE World Government Bond USD Hedged Index, which fell 3.70%. The Euro Bond Fund fell 5.79%, compared to a fall of 4.91% for its benchmark, BBG Euro Aggregate 500+. The Global Corporate Bond Fund fell 7.33%, compared to a fall of 5.57% for its benchmark, the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporate Bond USD Hedged Index.

The Euro Corporate Bond Fund fell by 5.89%, while its benchmark, the ICE BofAML Euro Corporate Index, fell by 5.20%. The Euro Short Duration Bond Fund fell 2.16%, the Fund has no benchmark.

The Global High Yield Bond Fund fell 5.42%, behind its benchmark, the BofA Merrill Lynch Global High Yield Constrained USD Hedged Index, which fell 5.17%.

The ESG Emerging Markets Local Currency Bond Fund fell 9.68% over the period. This was ahead of its benchmark, the J.P. Morgan ESG Government Bond Index Emerging Markets Global Diversified Index, which fell 11.09%. The broader ESG Emerging Markets Bond Fund fell 12.62%, just behind its benchmark, the J.P.Morgan ESG-Emerging Markets Bond Index Global Diversified, which fell 12.58%.

The Asian Tiger Bond Fund fell 12.13%, against a drop of 7.18% for its benchmark, the JP Morgan Asia Credit Index. The Fixed Income Global Opportunities Fund fell 3.36%, while the ESG Fixed Income Global Opportunities Fund fell 4.32%. Neither of the fixed income global funds have a benchmark.

Outlook

Just as recovery looked assured, the war in Ukraine threatens to bring a significant economic toll alongside its ghastly human toll. This economic hit will be mostly via higher energy costs. The constraints on energy supply are likely to result in higher inflation and lower growth, especially in the euro area. This puts central banks in a bind: trying to contain inflation will be more costly, and they cannot cushion the growth shock.

The recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic is already difficult. There have been significant supply chain problems, with parts and labour shortages creating real challenges for companies. US CPI has now been above 5% since May, and prices are also rising in the UK, Europe and other major economies across the world. This is before the energy price shock started to cause more profound and enduring problems.

Analysts are ratcheting down their growth forecasts and upping their inflation projections. This is not over, and the current growth forecasts may understate the impact on growth. The US is in a better spot than Europe, in our view. The shock is expected to be less than previous energy crises. The US also has a larger growth cushion – even if some of European weakness is bound to spill over.

The imminent hit to growth has reduced the risk that central banks slam the brakes and aggressively raise rates to contain inflation. The risks today are that the war escalates, bringing more energy supply shocks. Stagflation is now a possibility.

It was already clear that the world emerging from the COVID-19 pandemic would be a different one. The crisis has accelerated profound shifts in how economies and societies operate, from digitisation, to sustainability to geopolitics. The repercussions from COVID-19 are likely to be felt for years to come. The disruption in the Ukraine may be just the start of a rearranging of the world order and is undoubtedly linked to other factors such as the move away from fossil fuels. There are considerable challenges in the year ahead.

Performance overview

1 September 2021 to 28 February 2022 continued

Disclosed in the table below are the performance returns for the A Class Non-Distributing Share Class for each Fund, net of fees and expenses, which has been selected as a representative Share Class. Performance returns for any other Share Class can be made available on request.

Calculation methodology is based on industry standards.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance and should not be the sole factor of consideration when selecting a product. All financial investments involve an element of risk. Therefore, the value of an investment and the income from it will vary and the initial investment amount cannot be guaranteed. The Fund invests a large portion of assets which are denominated in currencies other than US dollar; hence changes in the relevant exchange rate will affect the value of the investment. The performance figures do not consider charges and fees that may be levied at the time of subscription or redemption of shares. Levels and bases of taxation may change from time to time. Subscriptions may be made only on the basis of the current Prospectus, of which the most recent annual report and audited financial statements and interim report and unaudited financial statements form an integral part, as well as Key Investor Information Documents (KIIDs). Copies are available from Investor Services, the Transfer Agent, the Management Company or any of the Representatives or Distributors. The BGF range is only available for investment by non-US persons. It is not offered for sale or sold in the US, its territories or possessions.

The Funds are not registered for sale to the public in all jurisdictions. Further details on distribution of shares of the Funds are included in the Authorised Status on page 3.
